In terms of both academic level and total learning support time, BCS Professional Graduate Diploma in IT (incorporating PGD Project) is shown as being the academic equivalent to a UK Bachelor's degree with honours.

The Diploma and PGD Examinations can be taken independently of the project and vice versa.

The 'in IT' qualification will only be achieved when both examinations and project have been taken and passed. It is not necessary to pass the Diploma project to achieve the Professional Graduate Diploma in IT. The PGD Examinations are examined at the academic level of a UK Bachelor's degree with honours.

Yours sincerely,
